

KOREA LATEST

As truce talks drag on, it's war for both side in Korea, as Reds build up strong positions and U.N. forces knock them down!

Now the Marines go in with flame throwers under cover of a heavy barrage.

From the air aircraft keep up the pressure on communications and other military objectives. Here's a batch of rockets on their way.

But for this constant watchfulness, if the truce talks broke down completely the United Nations would face disaster in Korea.

X Red positions in Korea receive steady artillery pounding from United Nations forces as the ~~stale~~ stalemated war goes on.

INFANTRY

X Marines and R.O.K. troops, carrying flamethrowers, advance behind the artillery barrage to carry out a daring surprise daylight raid. Flamethrowers burn a path for them.

X In the air, U.N. planes maintain pressure on communications and other military objectives. Watch these rockets seek their targets.

AHEAD
BARRAGE

X In the long, indecisive war against the Communists in Korea, U.N. forces take the offensive, to keep the Reds from building up for a major drive.
