

CHARLIE SPEAKS

Britain's film industry pays tribute to Charles Chaplin at a luncheon organized by the Variety Club, which does such good work for British and American children.

NAT. SOUND

"CHARLIE'S SPEECH"- used in 52-83

"My Lords, gentlemen, Bishops, Kings, I hope nobody's left out. I'm not one for making speeches and I'm sure, as a gesture, for a very, very worthy cause, it's a wonderful cause, and I think it seems symbolic that the hands across the sea, America, the United States, wonderful country, and Eng'land, a Grand - My Country"