

FRANKFURT

BRITONS WIN DANCE CONTEST

At the Congress Hall in Frankfurt, Germany, Jimmy Cullip and his wife, Olive, take part in an International contest against the world's best dancers.

Well known in British ballrooms for their brilliant dancing, the Cullips have a long list of Continental triumphs. In this year alone they have won thirty contests, and they hope to make it thirty-one tonight.

Perfect co-ordination and rhythm - plus that extra something that makes champions - have won these Londoners their fame. And tonight, first prize is again awarded to the Cullips - Britain's diplomats of dancing.
