

DE VALERA RETURNS

President O'Kelly and Archbishop M'Quade watch an aircraft land at Collinstown Airport, outside Dublin, bringing home Eire's premier Mr. De Valera. He's been away for four months in Holland where he underwent several operations on his eyes. Among the hundreds of well-wishers at the Airport is Major Vivion De Valera, his son.

President O'Kelly greets the premier who seems much fitter after his absence abroad. Eire is glad to welcome him home again.
