

"G.I." CHRISTINE RETURNS HOME

A 26-year-old ex-G.I. arrives home from Denmark where doctors converted him into a woman. Two years ago the name was George Jorgensen - today it's Christine.

Reporter: "Have you been offered a movie contract?"

Christine: "Yes, but I haven't accepted it."

Reporter: "Do you have any plans regarding the theatre?"

Christine: "No, I don't think so."

Reporter: "Are you going on with your photography?"

Christine: "I hope so - yes. And I don't have any plans at the moment and I thank you all for coming, but I think it's too much. Thank you very much."
