

Auction Sale Chichester

Target was £1000 Pounds

Sale brought in £1900 Pounds

First Bottle of Whiskey

Auctioned by the Chairman of Essex Branch
N. Y. U. Mr R. H. Sattler

Frucht in £45.

Second bottle of Whiskey

Auctioned by Mr. Pat. Stride
Local Auctioneer

£63-10-0

n

what has... paid for... the history... any in... which we... we n... at any time... must on... how this... tragic event... feel and know that... comrades paid... result... being lifted from me... names... all forever... memory... but to my em... who ca... out the i... employ... ay thank... firefighters have alwa... country. Masters... nts of the people. Fo... willing... us dis... cal endurance, to th... here can be no do... duals in all the big... undaur... ave been slow to j... ty and hunger wag... ty the firemen had... joined... service... pay wa... requirements of a... are that those en... protection of life and... was ne... one... 's leav... adequad... if a fireman was injured... es should... and unfit for duty, he w... m to sweep the roads, un... lify for a pension under t... ment and other Offic... comparison... with the co... authorities are to main... Bence and the fireme... n public sympathy

Check how ammy?

Press Relations by FREDERICK H. RADFORD & ASSOCIATES

presservices ltd

CHANCERY 7694

IMMEDIATELY

FOR RELEASE

28 FEB 1953

~~FOR~~ FURTHER INFORMATION ~~CONTACT:-~~

Don't think though it could be built up into a fair story but it would take a lot of thought - SH

"GOING, GOING"

...

CHICHESTER FARMERS WON'T TAKE NEIGH FOR AN ANSWER - WHEN IT'S FOR THE FLOODS

West Sussex farmers have hit on an original method of raising money for the Lord Mayor's National Flood Fund. The target is £1,000 and they won't take "neigh" for an answer.

They intend to raise the money at a jumble sale with a difference - most of the items on the sale catalogue will be alive!

Anything which can bray, neigh, moo, squeal, cackle, grunt, bleat, quack or crow which can be spared from the farmyard will be welcome at the sale which is to be held in the new cattle market of the ancient city of Chichester on March 4.

Scores of farmers have already decided to spare at least one pig, goat, horse or cow from their farms. Their wives will be sending ducks, chicken and eggs. Their children will be giving up calves foals and other young farm stock.

~~Handwritten scribbles and initials, possibly 'A', 'C', '96', 'Vans!'~~

(more)
Contact Mr. Radford's ) who will

Ant: (GR) stage

presservices ltd

All the Chichester auctioneers who practise in the city's market have given over their premises as depots prior to the sale. One of them has given window space at their offices to pictures and stories of the floods, and announcements of the sale.

"We have never been called upon to wield our auctioneer's hammer for such a good purpose", one of them said.

Nor will the sale be restricted to livestock. "Everything saleable wanted" is the motto and this goes for farm implements, vegetables, clothing or furniture which is no longer wanted in the farmhouse. Farmers' wives are looking forward to the sale for two reasons - they like coming into Chichester market because it gives them a rare chance to meet other farmers' wives, and because the sale is a good excuse to get rid of many articles which have been making the farm untidy for a long time.

.end.