

EX-KING CAROL'S FUNERAL

The body of ex-King Carol of Rumania is carried from his villa at Estoril to its last resting place in Lisbon. Watching the solemn procession is his wife Magda Lupescu, now Princess Helena of Rumania. In his death, King Carol receives the honours due to a sovereign from the Portuguese Government.

To the Royal Pantheon come mourners for a last service to the dead king. In the hectic days of his kingship Carol took too lightly the responsibilities of the throne. His troubled life ended in exile, and he passes almost forgotten by his people.
