

KOREA REPORT

As reports come in from Korea telling that the exchange of prisoners has gone off without a hitch, films reveal that a full dress rehearsal was held at Munsan by Red Cross teams before the event. United Nations truce chiefs watched troops, simulating the wounded P.O.Ws being transferred from hospital trains to Red Cross ambulances. Keeping guard over the men were soldiers of many nations.

But even as the rehearsal and the actual exchange operation went on, there was no halt in hostilities as United Nations troops moved in to engage the enemy.

Inevitably, many who go into battle are carried back on stretchers, in a war that goes on by day and night.
