LONDON LIGHTS UP!

London gets lit up in a really big way to celebrate the Coronation. And what a sight it is - no wonder the town's jammed tight with sight-seers every evening.

This enormous effigy of Her Majesty is but one of the many delights to be seen in Oxford Street. Famous London landmarks get a new look as well: here's the National Gallery. Now it is announced that from the Palace balcony Her Majesty the Queen will press the switch that lights all London on Coronation night.
