

10288701
10288701
53/51

NEWS FLASHES

The Los Angeles equivalent to our Flying Squad puts on a display to show that anything a road-hog can do, they can do better - and get away with it.

This kind of team-work is to teach them all the tricks of "getting their man" whatever their speed and however much traffic there is around - remember that next time you try speeding in Los Angeles!

Following heavy floods in East Switzerland, the people of Glaris in the Linth Valley begin work to stem the waters threatening their homes and fields. Mounds of mud are blown up to divert the water away from the town.

By a miracle only one person was killed in the flood, and few were injured. But the damage to houses and farming land will take many months to repair.