Rescue workers set about removing the jagged remnants of the coach in which ten people lost their lives at Irk Valley Viaduct near Manchester.

~~The~~ Leading coach of the 7.20 a.m. Bury-to-Manchester train ~~is~~ dropped a distance of eighty feet from the scene of the crash way above. The accident occurred when the electric train was in head-on collision with a steam train from Manchester to Bacup. Mercifully the coupling on the leading coach snapped, otherwise the rest would ~~have~~ have followed with a certain increase in the death roll.
