NEWS IN FLASHES.

Yes, it's the great man himself! and greetings to you, sir! Mr. Churchill, looking fit and ready for the fray, pays a visit to Number Ten. Not yet officially back in harness, it's still a happy occasion and an omen that maybe soon he will return to duty.

KOREA.

The Korean battlefield now lies happily silent and it's time for another batch of British P.O.W's to hit the trail for home. First a few formalities. But after being pent up so long, who worries about that.

For the record, a few facts please. What was it like? Number Rank and name. But the questions are soon over and it's time to catch up so things. He'll be seeing her soon. In the meantime, a glass of beer tastes awfully good - almost as good as the taste of freedom.
