DAN -- Aarsoth

~~The mammoth Los Angeles Coliseum is jammed for the Sheriffs' Rodeo.~~

~~L. A. sheriff Biscalluz, Debbie Reynolds and Hopalong Cassidy head the galaxy of stars at the colorful charity show.~~

~~Bring on the broncos and let the cowpokes fall where they may!~~

~~More than a hundred and five thousand persons watch man against mount -- in a dizzy duel to the dust.~~

~~The bulls are no better -- there's just no ridin' these cavortin' critters.~~

~~Help, folks! Somebody call the sheriff!~~

* The finals of the national doubles tennis championships at the Longwood Cricket Club pits the Australian team of Mervyn Rose and Rex Hartwig against America's Gardner Mulley and Billy Talbert.

SPORTS -- 2

The Down Under duo is favored as play begins. Rose serves and quickly the foreigners are flashing the tennis that made them the talk of the tournament. Talbert slams a return into the net.

Rose serves again in the swiftly paced final. Rose and Hartwig, leading two games to one, have the Americans on the run. Mulloy's lob is out -- another point for the Aussies.

Match point. Hartwig serves, Talbert's return is out and the Australian combination wins for the fourth time in five years. Winners of the U. S. doubles crown -- Mervyn Rose and Rex Hartwig.

In Chicago, Native Dancer goes after his eighteenth win in nineteen races in the American Derby.

AND THEY'RE OFF. Seven horses are challenging the Dancer, number two, for the winner's jackpot of sixty six and a half thousand dollars.
