TORQUAY REGATTA.

Torquay, the most elegant of Devon's seaside resorts, really lives up to its reputation as 145 sailing dinghies grace the harbour in readiness for racing in the blue waters of Torbay. The event which has drawn this large entry is the Burton Cup, one of the most sought-after trophies among dinghy racing men. Time now to make for the start.

Slowly the entries move up to the line ready for the starting cannon - and away they go. Sails billow in the stiff breeze as they race for the first marker buoy.

Closely bunched together, they jockey for position at the buoy - and there's one out of the race.

Using every ounce of seaman's skill, helmsmen battle for the lead. As they come towards the finish, the newly-built boats are up in front, and Witchcraft, owned by Dr. Steavenson, is ahead of them all. A splendid victory to end a sunlit day of perfect racing.
