

102481-C

53/70.

PONY CLUB'S "OLYMPICS"

In the grounds of Stoneleigh Abbey in Warwickshire, more than sixty young riders take part in the annual Pony Club Championships. A record number of entries - about four hundred and fifty - was received for the contest, so those who have fought their way into the last round are really the cream of our young riders. Sixteen year old Juliet Kendall is soon in her stride. Object of the championships is to search out Britain's young riding talent and to groom the most expert for a place in future Olympic Games.

Taskling a tricky double jump is fourteen year old Robin Patrick. A young lady who loses a few points when her mount "Romany" stumbles is Jane Ingram aged sixteen. The skill of our riding youngsters holds excellent promise for Britain in the next Olympic Games.