

102223
5/81.

MISS WORLD.

Fifteen of the world's most beautiful girls gather at the Lyceum in London for the finals of the Miss World Contest. This is Miss Switzerland - no yodelling please. Next on the list, eighteen year old Denise Perrier who beat all-comers over in France to reach the finals.

Guess who - its Miss Greece, a 20 year old Student, whose classic features gained her second prize from a panal of expert judges. Now for one of the home team, Miss Great Britain in the shape (and what a shape!) of Brenda Mee. Blonde, beautiful and only twenty years old - what more could you ask?

And here's the fabulous Miss Egypt, fully recovered from a bout of tantrums and completely confident that the title is hers. But in the opinion of the judges the Near East is far from best this time. Venus de Milo looks down on her modern counterpart, Miss France, now elected Miss World.