

HUSSEIN MEETS MOUNTBATTEN.

Seventeen year old King Hussein of Jordan visits Admiral The Earl Mountbatten of Burma, aboard H.M.S. Glasgow in the Red Sea. As Commander in chief Mediterranean, Admiral Mountbatten is in charge of fleet manoeuvres. As Glasgow opens up with her six inch guns, King Hussein has a grand-stand view from the bridge.

Now the King crosses to H.M.S. Surprise by Jackstay. King Hussein, who was educated at Harrow and Sandhurst, is believed to be the first reigning monarch, ever to try his luck on the Navy's version of an air-lift.
