KNIGHTHOOD FOR P.M. OF MIRTH.

Sir George Robey it will be from now on for the grand old man of the British music halls. At his home at Saltdean, near Brighton, he's taking things quietly at the moment for recently he suffered a slight back injury. With his bowler hat, his cane and those eyebrows George Robey has been a star of the boards for sixty years. Now his wife, formerly Blanche Littler reads some of the thousands of telegrams congratulating him on his knighthood.

Referring to his famous nickname "The Prime Minister of Mirth" the 84 year old veteran says this:-
