

Sir Edmund Hillary -- the New Zealander who conquered Mt. Everest -- eyes another lofty challenge -- the Empire State Building.

The lanky New Zealander -- in America for a lecture tour finds an easy way to scale the fifteen hundred foot steel and concrete colossus.

From the Observation tower, Sir Edmund looks down on sight far different from the snow-capped Himalayas. But a thrilling sight, nevertheless,