CARNIVAL.

Viareggio, a popular sea-side resort in Tuscany, stages its biggest-ever carnival. Dozens of gigantic moving figures, all made of pulped newspaper, are meant to represent different aspects of the nineteenth century - but, like our Chelsea Art's Ball, the theme of the thing doesn't matter much - the crazier you get, the better the locals like it.

All they need now, is a giant pink Elephant, then their hangover would be really complete.
