

SCOTTISH CUP FINAL.

54/32.

Once again Hampden Park is the setting for the most important date in Scotland's soccer calendar - the Cup Final. Celtic, in hooped jerseys, kick off against Aberdeen. 134,000 ticket-holders watch goalie Martin deal with a Celtic attack.

Aberdeen take over. Young Jim Clunie is substitute for the injured Joe O'Neil. Celtic hold firm, and soon their right-wing is on the move. Clunie No: 10 drops back to help out as danger threatens. Another forward, Hamilton, is there to help clear the Aberdeen line.

Over to Clunie who has a go. Bonnar perries, and Buckley shoots wide. That was nearly something to cheer the Don's fans, but now Celtic attack.

Fallen eludes centre half Young, but goalie Martin smotheres the ball. There's plenty of thrills in the first half, but still no score at the half-way mark. Play resumes with Leggatt taking a corner for Aberdeen.

Still quite unruffled, the Celtic defence work the ball away, and off they go again.

Mochan centres the ball but Young puts it into his own net! A gift goal for Celtic.

Aberdeen open up now, and fight back grimly.

Hamilton passes to Buckley who beats Bonnar, and there's the equaliser! Both goals scored with a minute.

Aberdeen hammer away for another. Their half-backs (with Glen No.6 to the fore) help in the attack.

Celtic swing play round and manage to force a corner. Here's another chance. Left-winger Mochan takes it and Martin has his work out out to keep the net clear.

Celtic's forwards get it again but they hang on just too long, and the Dons, by solid, incisive tackling, gain possession. Back they go towards the Celtic goal.

Buckley races in, but his foot hits the side-netting!

About thirty minutes after half-time. Celtic go away on a raid. Fernie forces the ball through to Fallon who left-hooks into the net.

Two-one to Celtic is how it end and Jack Stein receives the winner's cup. Celtic, as well as topping the league, take the Cup home for the 17th time in their history.
