MITRI-TURPIN

The box fight Mitri-Turpin for the European Middle-weight title, which was held in Trieste on May the 2nd, has been won by Mitri in a most sudden and unforeseen manner, only 65" after it had began. Turpin was struck by a strong blow from Mitri which, it is thought, may have hit his jugular vein and made him fall down all of a piece, with a strong splash, on the plank floor bating his nape.

The coverage, which was ~~shown~~^{shot} with two lens, shows:

- 2 scenes of the K.O.
- The presentation of the 2 boxers on the ring with British and Italian flags
- The crowd and photographers invading the ring at the end of the match.

N.B. This coverage was taken in very difficult conditions since the entrance to the Stadie was forbidden to the cameramen of all Newsreels.
