

SOAP BOX DERBY.

The pits are a hive of activity as the juvenile Genevieves get ready at Baldock in Hertfordshire, for the Grand Prix Trophy Meeting. This includes the kid's classic, the Soap-Box Derby. Three types of machine compete: side-valve, supercharges, and atomic powered. This is the second time Baldock has held this contest which is all part of the town's charity day. All ready to go now -

The the battle is on. Maybe it isn't as tricky as Silverstone, or as tiring as Le Mans, but even Sterling Moss couldn't lose a wheel and still keep going. Round the bend and into the straight.-

The pits are soon doing plenty of repair work. A tough contest all right. Some of the engines are flagging, but at least they can't have sand in their fuel.

The stop-watches are out as the machines (all built by the lads themselves) by the way, come racing towards the line.

And in they come! Silverstone - bah! Kid's stuff!!
