

FOOTBALL: URUGUAY VS. SCOTLAND.

Uruguay, in light shirts, meet Scotland at St. Jakob's Stadium in Basle. 45,000 spectators are gathered for this world cup tussle and soon get a taste of things to come as Uruguay give the Scotsmen a scare near their goal.

Again Uruguay attack. Out to Borges. Cunningham misses the tackle and a sizzler puts Uruguay one up. A superb shot.

Now Scotland get moving, keeping the ball well down to earth.

Allen Brown collides with the goalie and a defender's there long before a Scotsman's on the scene. Uruguay take over and a clever bit of work beats McKensie as they made for the Scots goal. Miguez, with no-one to mark him, bangs it home!

Half-time, and its still two-nil. Uruguay kick off, and almost at once its Scotland who gain possession.

McKensie receives - over to Mochan who quickly has a shot - could be a goal. Uruguay attack again. They're really in their stride now and giving goalie Martin plenty to do.

Mochan has it. He passes on to Hamilton, but their speedy rivals rob them and swing play round.

Borges dashes in from wing and there's number three! It looks too easy the way they do it.

Back come Scotland. The ref lets it pass and on go the Scotsmen. But their forwards don't keep it for long. Within a few seconds the Uruguay defence take command and back goes the ball towards the other end. Watch this bewildering display by the Uruguayans.

Scotland, who are suffering from the intense heat, fight back. Brown has it, but a spot of obstruction gives Scotland a free-kick - despite a frantic appeal by the offender.

Decherty takes the kick -

Uruguay are soon leading by six goals to nil - and can you wonder at it when they play football like this!

Abadie receives. Martin doesn't have a chance as on he goes to put the ball into the wide-open net. Seven-nil - a score that Scotland won't forget for a long time.
