

PICKLES AND PENCE

Mr. Wilfred Pickles and his wife, Mabel, will bring a pint pot of pennies to the Mason Arms, Devonshire Street, W. 1., on Thursday, August 5 at 7 p.m. These will be added to a 3 ft. high tower of pennies collected in a "Penny in the Pint Pot" scheme to aid spastic children.

Mr. Pickles, a patron of the National Spastics Society, suggested that licencees of public houses throughout the country might be asked to help raise funds for the Society by inviting their customers to build towers in this way.

Already nearly 200 public houses in Greater London and Sussex are co-operating in the scheme. At the White Horse, Fetter Lane, E.C. 4., over £24 has been collected.

How do the pennies stay in place? The secret is to wet them in beer first.

E N D

(You are invited to send a photographer to see Wilfred Pickles add his pennies. Full facilities will be given on phoning: Mr. S.M. Lamb, The National Spastics Society, Tel: TEMple Bar 4561.)