FIVE TON RHINO.

No - it's not from Mars. It's the five ton Rhino, a revolutionary new vehicle guaranteed to shake the soul of any driver.

Her new type wheels are designed to take her anywhere and though her engine is no more powerful than a car's, she ploughs through undergrowth like a tank. In fact, nothing daunts the Rhino. In shallow water the wheels do the work and where it's deep she just floats, propelled by a jet arrangement.

As for mud - the more she sinks, the bigger the area of grip for the wheels. Indeed, it seems a tank's got nothing on the Rhino.
