HIGHLAND NEWS:

It's the Cowal Highland Gathering at Dunoon. Seventy one Pipe Bands were due to compete but thousands who came from all over Britain and overseas for these Highland Games found bitterly disappointing weather. Still, Scottish spirits survived.

Early arrivals had a special thrill - the arrival by helicopter of of a distinguished guest: Joe McShee of Falkirk, winner of the Marathon at the Empire Games.

T. Logan of the Renfrew and Bute Constabulary has a go at putting the sixteen pound ball..and G.E. Mitchell of Glasgow Police tasses the Caber to win.

And, now, it's over to Edinburgh for the Horse Show, where Bon Bijou, (Miss Penelope Moltens up) is making a fast round.

Here the weather has kinder for one of the most successful shows of the series held during Festival times, with Princess Margaret present to grace the occasion. Now here comes "Shamrock" ridden by Lady Roberts.

Now it's the turn of Miss I Turnbull of "Remember Me"...She'll probably remember this moment!

"Remember Me" again, still doesn't seem to like it. Princess Margaret (here seen presenting a cup to Mr. James Bushan) enjoyed it all - and that went for everybody present.

To complete the Scottish fun and games - Edinburgh Castle and the Searchlight Tattoo!

They're a team of Eighty Highland Dancers drawn from many Scottish Regiments, together with boys from the Queen Victoria School, Dunblane.

And now, the most stirring event of all - the massed pipes and drums.

A light in the sky - that is Edinburgh at Festival time, an international occasion - with a good Scots flavour.
