

SAND YACHT OUT FOR RECORD:

The biggest land yacht ever built in Britain is made ready at Lytham St. Annes, near Blackpool. Mr. Millett Denning, on the right, built the yacht known as the "Coronation Year Mark Two". With it he hopes to set a world record, though no-one's quite sure what the present record is. Anyway Mr. Denning aims to top 75 miles an hour; now today this is only a trial run.

Canadian Grville Davies is at the tiller while Mr. Denning handles the 286 square foot sail. Sand yachtsmen say there are about a hundred beaches in Britain suitable for the sport, but the wind has to be mighty strong for high-speed runs. You've got to be tough to handle the yachts when they're flat out, for there's a fair risk of coming a crepper. But, one thing about this sport, you can't sink, though you may get Gravel Rash.

SAND YACHT OUT FOR RECORD.

PATHE NEWS: 5/73
Released Monday 20.9.54.

31 The biggest land yacht ever built in Britain is made ready at Lytham St. Annes, near Blackpool. Mr. Millett Denning, on the right, built the yacht known as the "Coronation Year Mark Two". With it he hopes to set a world record, though no-one's quite sure what the present record is. Anyway Mr. Denning aims to top 75 miles an hour; not today, this is only a trial run.

UP

70 Canadian Orville Davies is at the tiller while Mr. Denning handles the 286 square foot sail. Sand yachtsmen say there are about a hundred beaches in Britain suitable for the sport, but the wind has to be mighty strong for high-speed runs. You've got to be tough to handle the yachts when they're flat out, for there's a fair risk of coming a cropper - but, one thing about this sport, you ~~can't~~ ~~crash!~~ can't sick - though don't get out -

You get gravel rash.