NEW YORK GUESTS QUEEN MOTHER:

The liner Queen Elizabeth enters New York Harbour and American pressmen record the arrival of the Queen Mother who watches from the wing of the bridge. This is the second visit the Queen Mother has made to the States. - the first was in 1939. She has a word of thanks for the Captain and senior officers before she leaves the liner. Then comes an official welcome to New York by a representative of President Eisenhower.

The Queen Mother thanks the welcoming party and speaks of her stay:

After a nine-day visit to New York, the Queen Mother will journey on to spend a week in Washington.
