

102131-5

51/88

GRANDFATHER SIR WINSTON.

Sir Winston and Lady Churchill attend the baptism of their ninth grandchild at Westerham in Kent. Six year old Nicholas Seames walks hand in hand with his grandfather as they make their way towards the parish church.

But stealing the limelight, even from Sir Winston, is his three-month old grand-daughter. Her parents, Captain and Mrs. Seames, have chosen the names Charlotte Clementine, for her. She is their fourth child. Emma, aged five, Jeremy aged two, and Nicholas pose with their parents and their new sister.

While her famous grandfather beams benevolently at the latest addition to his large family, little Charlotte Clementine rests contented and serene.