

BRITAIN'S CYCLES ON SHOW:

Britain's cycles, motor-cycles and accessories (this is the Watsonian Streamlined Sports Sidecar) go on show at Earl's Court, London. The Vincent Black Prince (price £378) is the fastest and most expensive machine in the show. The Dayton Albatross is Britain's first home-produced high-performance Scooter.

Power-Pak have a new "any colour" service. So ladies, if spots are in fashion, you can have them on your blouse and your bike motor. Now for a glimpse of the new cycles, and here's champion Reg Harris showing the latest Raleigh to a group of fashion-minded girl enthusiasts. Over now to a rival cycle firm, Hercules. A trick up their sleeve is Eileen Sheridan, Britain's greatest woman cyclist, who explains to French stage star, Irene Hilda, the £5000 the glass bike. It's frame is made of thousands of fibre strands.
