VISHINSKY'S BODY FLOWN HOME.

54/93

The body of Andrei Vishinsky is carried on a lift trolley to the aircraft which will fly it from New York on the first stage of its journey to Russia. Vishinsky, famous as the man who said "No" to dozens of proposals during United Nations meetings, was once Russia's State Prosecutor. It is said that whilst in this post, he sent about 6,000 people to their deaths. A much-hated man, Vishinsky was nevertheless admired by his enemies for his brilliant if aggravating diplomacy in later years. Clothed in heavy black, his widow boards the plane which takes Andrei Vishinsky back to the country where he was regarded as a national hero.
