WORLD NEWS:

Marshal Tito, the Communist President of Yugoslavia, arrives in New Delhi after a 680 mile journey from Bombay. The Marshal is here to meet several of India's leading ministers for talks which aim to bring about clearer understanding between the two countries.

With Mr. Nehru, India's Prime Minister, Marshal Tito issues a statement, following their talks, denying that they intend to form a third block between East and West. In the hills of Northern Israel is the city of Nazareth where Christ grew to manhood nearly two thousand years ago. The city has changed little since the twelfth century when Moslems and Christians fought for its possession during the Crusades.

A majestic procession moves through Nazareth toward s the site of a new church. Leading the worshippers is the Catholic Patriarch of Jerusalem, Monsignor Geri.

At the site of the new church a ceremony is held during which the cornerstone of the building is laid. It was on this spot, so it is said, that the Angel Gabriel foretold to Mary the coming birth of Jesus. When completed the Church of the Annunciation will ring out the message of Christ.

At the Savoy Hotel, Britain's top sportsmen, including Gordon Pirie, gather for a presentation to "The Sportsman of the Year". John Savage, the champion shot-gutter is here. So is Jim Peters who has now retired from marathon running. Lord Brabazon announces 1954's Sportsman and Sportswoman: Roger Bannister, the miracle miler and Pat Smythe, one of the world's greatest horsewomen.

A National Pell, conducted by Sporting Record, puts Pat Smythe at the top for the second year running. The two champions take their bow together.

At Olympia' is held Britain's first national boat show. A Royal Barge, built by William III is explained by two of the Queen's Watermen. Here is Cowslip, in which Prince Philip has scored several successes. Max Aitken is at the show sponsored by the Daily Express. Here's a tiny replica of Prince Philip's Blushottle. Now something rather bigger, a glass fibre landing craft built for the Royal Marines. The National Boat Show provides a paradise for all with a pinch of salt in their veins.
