

MANCHESTER CITY V. M. UNITED.

Manchester City take the field at Maine Road for a clash with their neighbours, Manchester United. 75,000 fans are there for the local duel. Wearing dark shirts, United kick off full of confidence, for the record books show that when they've met City before they've usually won. Still anything can happen in a Cup Match. Now its City attacking.

Viollet eases the situation. Berry tries to feed Taylor, but Trautmann's there first.

City attack at United's end and goalie Wood has a hot time. Hayes, Fagan and Clarke try all they can to get it past him.

Gibson clears out of harm's way and starts a United attack.

Taylor heads, but Trautmann has little trouble. Neither goalie has let one through by half-time. Play resumes with the City boys on the attack.

Over to Hayes who shoots immediately. And City have scored.

Back with a vengeance come the United. Time's getting short if they're to save the day.

A fine, clean match on the whole, but there's one unfortunate incident that leads to Chilton (United's centre-half) being sent off for a foul.

Hart leads a City raid. A neat flick sends the ball through Byrne's legs to a team-mate. But the attack comes to nought when the United defence, covering well, swing the ball away. City take a corner. Wood's "punch-clearance" lands at Revis's feet - and its a goal! By 2-nil Manchester City knock their neighbours out of the cup.
