ZOO BABIES HERE FOR SPRING

PATHE NEWS: 55/14

Meet Prince and Cinderella, two little lion cubs out on a spree at Whippsnade Zoo. When the Easter crowds gather they'll be among the zoo's top stars but, for the moment, they're just a happy-go-lucky couple, with hardly a thought for Mum and Dad.

Another baby's out on the loose, a four-horned Spanish sheep this time, one of a new family that's only too keen to take the air when the sun's about. A lively foursome that live up to their name, Husky, are part of a handful of litters that have recently arrived on the Whippsnade scene.

The camel Mabel becomes a mother with the longest-legged, unsteady bundle of fluff in the zoo.

A newcomer to the Hippo House is Reginald. Weighing sixty-six pounds when born nine months ago, he now tips the scales at three hundredweight.
