SCOTTISH CUP:

KILMARNOCK V. CELTIC.

At Rugby Park, Kilmarnock, the coin goes spinning before Celtic challenge the home team. 31,000 people pack the stands for this vital match. It's the visitors who start the ball rolling on a pitch that's had a thick coating of sand put down on the icy turf. Kilmarnock make the first attack and Celtic's goalie Bonnar is soon at work.

Fernie takes the ball away for Celtic, but Kilmarnock's defence keep trouble at bay for the moment.

A big thrill for Celtic fans comes when their right wing goes into action with Walsh much in evidence. So far Celtic seem to have had most of the play, and this move could be dangerous.

The ball goes to Eric Smith whose shot put Celtic in the lead!

Kilmarnock hit back. Left-winger Henaughan puts over a centre that gives the Celtic defence a hectic few moments.

Kilmarnock, who seem to be losing some of their pace, attack again with Murray well to the fore. As he runs into trouble, team-mate Harvey comes up to help out.

At half-time, its still one-all to Celtic. Murray takes a corner for Killie. Henaughan heads, and the score's level. One-all.

Celtic fight for the lead again. Although they're probably the more powerful team of the two, they don't seem able to crack Kilmarnock's defence in this half.

Celtic make a last-minute, desperate attempt, but Brown keeps the net clear. The score stays at one-all up to the whistle, and not even Belle, Killie's left-back, can stop his team meeting Celtic for a replay.
