

SWISS WIN GYM MATCH.

Top German gymnasts are "at home" to an expert team from Switzerland. This annual "friendly match", the fifteenth in the series, draws a full house of more than 11,000. Performances are well up to Olympic Games standards. This is one of the Swiss team.

Helmut Bantz, perhaps Germany's greatest gymnast, gives a brilliant display on the horizontal bar.

With the result of the contest still in the balance, Guntardt, another Swiss, is called to the bar. Perfect poise, and control, plus a grace that only endless practise can bring, makes his an almost flawless performance.

And that exhibition wins the contest for Switzerland - by the narrow margin of ten points to nine.