NEWS FLASHES:

Runaway Middlesex schoolboy Howard Jones is seeing Egypt at the personal invitation of the premier, Colonel Nasser. With him is his mother, and Egyptian archaeologist Mr. Kamal Al Malakh.

Found in France after running away from home, Howard said he wanted to see the world - particularly Egypt. Colonel Nasser heard of this, so now Howard is on a B.I.P.'S tour of historic monuments and discoveries - in this case the famous Solar boats.

At home, a meeting is held at Westminster to elect a successor to Sir Winston Churchill as leader of the Conservative Party. Mr. Maxwell Fyfe is among the early arrivals for this very important meeting, followed by Mr. Christopher Soames.

Mr. Rab Butler, the chancellor, poses for the photographers, and here with Lady Eden is the Prime Minister.

Sir Anthony - of course, is elected - an obvious and thoroughly satisfactory choice.

At Liss, visiting a Home for the chronic Sick, the Queen Mother is met by the founder of the Home - Group Captain Cheshire, V.C.

While one patient eagerly takes souvenir pictures, the Queen Mother meets many others befriended by the former war hero who has now founded eight such homes for the chronic sick. One a painter, shows his latest portrait of the Group Captain.

And before she leaves, a floral tribute to a welcome and honoured visitors
