DAM BUSTERS - PREMIERE.

Officiating at a Royal Film Premiere in aid of R.A.F. charities, Marshal of the Royal Air Force Lord Tedder chats with his wife and guests before the arrival of the guest of honour, Her Royal Highness Princess Margaret. Mr. Billy Wallace is one of the members of the Princess's party.

Wearing a strapless gown of heavy satin embroidered with diamante, and a white ermine stole, Princess Margaret is escorted into the theatre to meet Lord de L'Isle and Dudley, Secretary of State for Air, and Lord and Lady Tedder.

Members of the Pathfinders Association are among the guests who watch their secretary-general's daughter Susan Thorne present a bouquet.

An R.A.F. guard of honour lines the Princess's route through the theatre, before the start of a premiere which earns £7,000 for the R.A.F.'s Association, Benevolent Fund and escaping Society.
