EISENHOWER AT WEST POINT:

Dwight D. Eisenhower wearing his 1915 armband like General Omar Bradley, and other classmates returns on an official visit to the Old West Point Academy from which they passed out 40 years ago.

The distinguished ex-cadet presents to this year's cadet Delbert Jacobs the Eisenhower Trophy for Military Psychology and leadership, a much-prized award at America's leading military academy. From West Point to White House - will any of these young men tread that road?
