AIRSHOW AT DUESSELDORF

More than 200,000 were present when exworld-champion Albert Falderbaum demonstrated his well-known hair-raising air-acrobatics at Duesseldorf.

But all did not go well this time! Falderbaum starts in his glider as usual. Flying on his back - just above the ground - that is his speciality! But there is the catastrophe. The plane's rudder touches the ground and is torn off. The glider is out of control and crashed against a jet plane. Falderbaum is badly hurt.
