SUNDAY SUBMARINES.

No, this midget submarine isn't meant for blowing up battleships - it's just the latest idea for getting away from it all. These weekend submarines are trying out a petrol-powered de luxe model for two, off the California coast. A snorkel device keeps the engine running.

If you feel like a snack, you just park your underwater motorbike while you go and catch a fish. No parking problems - no traffic cops.

Sportsmen and scientists may use this craft, but the for family man, why not fit a sidecar for junior?
