B-52

WEIST -- Aarseth

55
America's giant B-52 global bomber joins the far-flung defense network of the Strategic Air Command.

One hundred and fifty-six feet long -- one hundred and eighty-five feet from wingtip to wing tip -- the six-jet aircraft can top 600 miles an hour and climb to an astonishing fifty thousand feet.

442 [With air-to-air refueling -- as shown here -- the jet giant can reach any point on earth.

A supersonic bomber -- with a global range -- the B-52 spreads the armor of American aerial might around the world.
