Nearly a million people cheered and waved as the Soviet leaders - Marshal Bulganin and Mr. Khrushchev - drove along the 12 mile long ceremonial route from the airport to the President's House.

People had started collecting from the morning and the day was observed as an unofficial holiday. Streets were spreaded with flowers and the flags of Russia and India were hoist in thousands. Slogans like 'Russian and Indian are brothers' and 'Long live Russian Indian friendship' decorated the various archways enroute the procession. Mr. Nehru was seated with the distinguished guests and in the history of Delhi never before was given such a reception to any other dignitary.
