ICEBREAKING ON THE DANUBE (special)

Vilshefen is still particularly endangered by the pack-ice situation near the river powerstation Kachletwerk.

During the night the ice-masses reached a height of 10 metres and the flood gates of the 5leks were in imminent danger. Icebreakers are working day and night to keep the river flowing and to break up the 15 miles ice-masses drifting ceaselessly up against the lock. A fight against nature is being won by the untiring efforts of the men abroad the ice-breakers.
