POLAR BABY.

Meet Spitfire, four-months old polar bear, an Easter newcomer to Whipshade from Nuremberg Zoo, who swapped her for a couple of baby Bison. Spitfire will be only the second polar bear baby to be raised in England - and she's likely to prove as popular as her predecessor, Drumsa.

I want out!

I wanna go and play with that brown baby
in the next garden!

Oh well, afterlunch, perhaps. But why on earth can't they let a girl do what she wants when she wants.

Some want to go out and can't, while others
don't want to, and must. What a life.

I want out! Don't care what you say, I want out!

It's no good eh, they've got you where they want you.

The bare fact is - it's more than a bear can bear!
