

TRUMAN WEDDING.

At Independence, Missouri (Harry Truman's home town) his daughter Margaret, marries 43-year-old Clifton Daniel, of the New York Times. The wedding's at the same red-brick church where 37 years ago the man who became President of the United States was married.

The bride wears a street-length dress of beige Venetian lace, from the church the newlyweds drive to the Truman home, pausing with the four parents to meet the cameras. Ex-President Harry Truman and his family still prefer a quiet home-town life. So this wedding is in the family tradition.
