SCOTLAND v. AUSTRIA.

Skippers Young and Cowirk exchange flags at the start of the Scotland-Austria international at Hampden Park, Scotland, in dark shirts, advance from the kick-off, and Hugh Baird tries to start an attack, but the visitors hold it. Theodor Wagner kicks up the right wing.

Winger Grehs feels left back John Howie, and centres. But the Scots goalie, Tom Younger of Hibernian dives for a beautiful save.

He kicks upfield, and the Scots sweep forward, Mike Cullen to Johnny McKensie - McKensie to Alfie Conn, who beats Kellman and shoots - and it's in!

Scotland 1, Austria nil. The home team are soon threatening the Austrian goal again.

Koerner beats Doug Cowie to the ball, and clears upfield. Now it's Austria on the attack. Inside left Theodor Wagner shoots - and Tommy Younger's beaten - it's a goal!

One all - Scotland's lead lasted less than a minute. Now Austria are pressing again. Right back Halla playing well up field, centres - but this time Younger shows he's really made of.

Second half, and Haumer has the ball. He passes to Koerner, who sends it through Young's legs to Hanappi. Hanappi shoots - a very near miss.

Alfie Conn dodges Ernst Cowick, but Engelmaier stops it.

Johnny McKensie makes a long run down the right wing. Left half Kellman tries hard to stop him.

McKensie centres - but there's no one to take it, and the defence bring it away. So it ends in a draw - though if Austria's shooting has been better, things might have been very different!
