

SIX-A-NICE WEDDING.

Six brides are ready for their wedding at Kleinheim, Canada, where the four Derassers daughters and the two Derassers sons are getting married together. It was their father's idea - he says he's too busy farming to go to six weddings. At St. Mary's Catholic Church, father leads the four girls to the altar - Grada, Dora, Christina, and Wilhelmina. The brides of the brothers - Andrew and Cornelius - are here too.

The twelve-ring marriage goes through without a hitch. Grada is married to Bernard, Dora to William, Christina to Jack, Wilhelmina to Gerard, Andrew to Anne, and Cornelius to Jean. All twelve came from Holland - as did father Derassers. Who can now back to the farm!
