BOY GOLF CHAMPION.

Biggest golf surprise for years, comes from 18-year-old John Beharrell, youngest player ever to reach the finals of the amateur championship. On Troon golf course, he fights for the title - giving the crowd a display of magnificent drives and approach shots, which land him time and again right up to the pin.

If he can sink this in two, he'll have won the championship - by five and four.

The crowd holds its breath as John Beharrell makes the last shot - and it's in!

So an eighteen-year-old schoolboy becomes the first Englishman to win the Amateur Championship since 1933. Congratulations from his mother - and from all of us.

John took up golf when he was eight, because the doctor said he needed plenty of fresh air. And certainly, this seems to be just what the doctor ordered!
